

TOP TEN SUMMER CAMPS

JUNE 24, 2015

Chef Eric Crowley

We had an #Italian #feast for our first day of #kidscamp this week! They made #gnocchi #fromscratch! How #delicious is that?! #ChefEricCC #LA #cookingschool

Chef Eric Crowley, a seasoned, professional chef and founder, owner, and chef instructor at Chef Eric's Culinary Classroom in West Los Angeles, is kicking off summer with his annual culinary academies for children ages 7 to 15. With various cooking and/or baking/pastry camps beginning each week (June 8 to August 20, 2015), these academies keep kids learning new and valuable skills while they're away from classroom...they'll be having too much fun to know it, though. From learning how to create a full breakfast spread to baking desserts, to using various kitchen appliances safely, to implementing the correct culinary techniques, Chef Eric has created these culinary academies with the hope that his students will have fun while learning how to cook for themselves and their families.
